Office of Faith-Based Initiatives:

Access to Recovery through Faith Based Collaborations: A top down, strategic approach, to equip communities of faith
The opioid crisis has cost Tennessee workers, wages, and wellness!

- The negative labor market and economic effects of the opioid crisis have been substantially more severe in Tennessee than they have been nationwide.

Between 1999 and 2015, the volume of prescription opioids per capita in Tennessee rose 710 percent (about 14 percent annually).

The rise in opioid prescriptions from 1999 to 2015 led the labor force participation rate for both prime-age men and women to decline.
Facts:

- In 2015, opioids kept 28,200 men and 38,700 women in Tennessee out of the labor force.
- The detrimental effect of opioids on labor markets holds true for both rural and nonrural counties.
Numbers:

• From 1999 to 2015, the rise in opioid dependency and resulting decline in prime-age labor force participation cumulatively cost Tennessee’s economy nearly 900 million work hours.

Paradigm Shift: Leveraging the Faith Community

Partnering with Tennessee’s Faith Community to effectively reimagine the conversation around Recovery:

• Supplementing Organic Strategic Capacity
  - ✓ Over 12,000 Congregations/Institutions
  - ✓ Over 3.5 million People

• The faith community CAN help!
  - ✓ We lose almost 3000 Tennesseans each year to overdose (1776) and suicide (1163) combined.
  - Over 2.5k people of faith per each loss.
Faith-Based Initiative Goals

The goals of the Faith-Based Initiative are to:

• Connect individuals struggling with addiction to treatment.
• Facilitate understanding of what treatment and recovery are.
• Increase knowledge of what addiction is.
• Understand the continuum of care and collaborate with it.
• Help groups understand and implement the best practice model.
• Promote and improve effectiveness of the faith-based initiative and how it connects the community with recovery and support services.

• Each located in Substance Abuse Prevention Coalitions across the state

• Lifeline’s Outcomes:
  Provided 5,594 recovery trainings

• Referred 11,264 people to treatment and recovery support services

• Started over 600 new recovery meetings
“Recovery Navigators”

Another Piece of the Puzzle
What are Tennessee Recovery Navigators?

- A network of CPRS’ in long-term recovery who provide access points to treatment and recovery resources.

- Their primary responsibility is to meet patients who have recently overdosed in the ER/ED.

- Inform a patient about the services available to help them enter treatment and eventually long-term recovery.

- Our goal: By meeting patients in EDs, break the cycle of overdose and increase the number of individuals who are connected with treatment and recovery resources.

For more info:
Role of the Navigator

- The Navigator IS:
  - Certified Peer Recovery Specialist
  - Use lived experience to connect with individuals
  - A resource for ER/ED teams to navigate the treatment & recovery continuum

- The Navigator ISN’T:
