Motivational Interviewing Prompt and Reminder Posters

Recent research on implementation science highlights the importance of understanding the practical strategies that support uptake of new practices and adoption of evidence-based practices (EBP) by clinicians. For example, placing reminders or prompts in the practice setting where the clinician can easily see them provides timely cues that reinforce use of the EBPs. [see Cullen & Adams, 2012; Leathers, 2016; Sholomskas et al., 2005]. With this in mind, the MPATTC worked with a Motivational Interviewing (MI) expert/researcher to create posters that serve as a reminder/prompt about four important tenets of MI and reinforce use of this EBP by clinicians.

These posters can be downloaded from the MPATTC website and include a QR code that can be scanned to access additional MI resources, products, and training found within the ATTC Network. To maximize the impact of these products, display the posters in a location most visible and accessible to clinicians.

The MPATTC is available to answer questions and interested in any feedback you have regarding the posters. Contact us at mpattc@casat.org.
