

KC PERINATAL RECOVERY COLLABORATIVE

Coordinating Service Systems to Support Mothers with Substance Use Disorders

The Kansas City Perinatal Recovery Collaborative (KCPRC) was formed in June 2018 by Mid-America ATTC in response to the growing impact of substance use on families in the bi-state metropolitan area.

The KCPRC works to develop, grow, and nurture a coordinated, multi-system network of services and programs to support pregnant and parenting mothers as they navigate the dual journey of parenting and recovery. KCPRC is a collective of professionals from child development, child welfare, housing, social services, health care, criminal justice, and substance use disorder treatment and recovery.

The group focuses on evidence-based ways care can be improved from pregnancy and throughout a woman's continuum of care. Join us to learn more about continuing education and networking opportunities.
