

RxAware: Being Smart About Pain Management Solutions and Rx Safety

With support from Walmart, RxAware is a new program from Partnership to End Addiction, the leading national nonprofit dedicated to preventing and reducing substance use.

Learn more at drugfree.org/RxAware.

An online search may yield a lot of solutions for pain management, but how do you sort through it all to make the best decisions for you or your family? What are non-addictive options for pain management? What are the side effects and risks of taking an opioid if it is prescribed? Is there something else my loved one can do to manage their pain?

We're here to help.

RxAware rounds up what you need to know about non-addictive pain relievers and opioid prescription safety via bite-sized messages delivered via text message. Developed in collaboration with health professionals, topics include the latest information and resources, as well as support to help protect you and your loved ones.

Text RXAWARE to 55753

Answer a short series of questions about your own or a loved one's pain management goals.

Receive personalized messages to keep you and your family safe while managing pain.

Thank you for the encouragement and connections through this service. It always seems to come at the right moment.

— Parent response

Parent receiving support via Partnership to End Addiction's text messaging program.